CONTEST

“DESIGN FACTORY”
PLANNING THE FUTURE

INTERNATIONAL SHOWCASE OF ECO-SUSTAINABLE DESIGN

REGULATIONS

1. Contents and objectives of the Contest “Design Factory” of Roma Design Lab 2014

Opificio delle Arti, the organising company of Roma Design Lab, event dedicated to design and creativity, announces a Contest aimed at exploring and valuing the national and international self-produced design.

The event takes place in Rome, in the area of the ex Mattatoio in Testaccio district, from the 22nd to the 26th of October 2014. In those five days, Roma Design Lab fosters the direct contact between designers and public, and promotes the networking among self-producing designers, businessmen and design lovers, creating occasions to build new partnerships and distribution channels.

The 2014 edition of Roma Design Lab gives the opportunity - to the designers selected by the Contest - to improve their works and visibility and to receive prestigious prizes Roma Design Lab, by giving exposure to the selected designers, increases their possibility to participate in other European events and exhibitions.

Through the Contest, Roma Design Lab draws attention, not only on the designers, but also on the territory and the protagonists of the production chain, by promoting limited edition design products.

In its selection, Roma Design Lab prefers:

- # Projects that underline the synergy between designers and artisans/companies present in the territory.
- # Objects entirely realized by the designers, creators of the whole production process, from the project to the actual realization.
- # Objects entirely realized by the artisans, creators of the whole production process, from the project to the actual realization.

2. Requirements to participate in the Contest

Roma Design Lab organises a temporary exhibition that allows the contestants – previously enrolled and selected as indicated in chapter 4 - to freely exhibit their works without mediation.

To participate in the Contest and the event, the designers are asked to send to factory@romadesignlab.it by the 15/08/2014: photographs of their works (as indicated in chapter 3) and the required documents.

During the registration, the contestants commit to submitting their works, completed in their entirety, no later than the 30/09/2014 to Città dell'Altra Economia, Largo Dino Frisullo, 00153 – Roma, in case of selection.

Roma Design Lab will take care of the exhibition of the works received.

The participation in the Contest is free and open to designers, artisans, stylists, professionals, artists, makers and companies or studios that work in the design field. The members of the jury and all the people that have worked or collaborated in the creation of this Contest can't participate in it.

Participation can be individual or as a group. In this second case, a group leader must be identified: he/she is responsible to all intents and purposes towards the Contest's organisers, and is the only one that is legitimated to collect the prizes.

A single person cannot participate in the Contest in more than one group, or in a group and individually, failure to comply will result in exclusion from the competition for him/her and the members with whom he/she participates.

3. Subject of the Contest
